Dear Mr. Azzam.

Thank you for your letter regarding the tragedy which unfolds daily in Bosnia.

I have been horrified by the terrible scenes of suffering we have all witnessed over the last year. The policy of negotiation coupled with humanitarian aid has failed to stop the massacre of the innocent.

I hope the world community will no longer delay in taking effective action to allow the victims to defend themselves and act to halt the aggressor. The slaughter in Bosnia must be brought to an end and those guilty of the hideous atrocities brought to justice.

Yours sincerely

Margaret Thatcher

Dear Lady Thatcher,

I must congratulate you from my heart on your words yesterday during the course of tv interviews concerning the tragedy of Bosnia. Many of those suffering will find a glimmer of hope in what you have said and in your championship of their just cause. I pray that those who now decide policy will have the courage to follow your advice on how to stop the slaughter of innocents and urge you to continue to use your influence to this end.

With very best wishes,

Yours sincerely,

Salem Azzam
